Vandals Attack Store Windows

Vandals, using rocks in most cases and perhaps pellet guns in others, went on a vicious window-breaking spree in downtown Antioch last week.

Large, expensive windows were destroyed in at least 13 places of business. The total cost of replacement was estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000.

The vandalism, which has happened in Antioch and neighboring communities before - but never so extensively - began last Wednesday night.

Dodge of Antioch, on Main St., reported to police Thursday morning that someone threw-a rock through an 8 by 8 foot window. Replacement cost was estimated at more than $400. THE SAME MORNING, about $900 worth of damage was reported at Antioch Super-Valu on Lake St. Three 8-foot windows were broken and small rocks were found on the sidewalk.

Then Hahn Jewelers on Main St. reported to police that a window valued at about $150 had been broken.

At the same time, 9 a.m. on Thursday, a report came in from the Globe Department Store on Orchard St. that a 7 by 5-foot window had been broken. Replacement cost was estimated at about $230.

J. IRVING WALSH

J. Irving Walsh said Monday he will run for mayor of Antioch in the Tuesday, Apr. 19, election. Walsh, a village trustee for nearly 14 years, is the first person to announce his candidacy for the post being vacated by Mayor Robert C. Wilton.

Mayor Wilton is planning to move to Mundelein.
Walsh was re-elected two years ago to a fourth term as a village trustee. He has been a member of Antioch's volunteer fire department for more than 30 years.

He is employed at Rittenhouse & Embree Lumber Co. and has worked for the firm, formerly Antioch Lumber, since 1938.

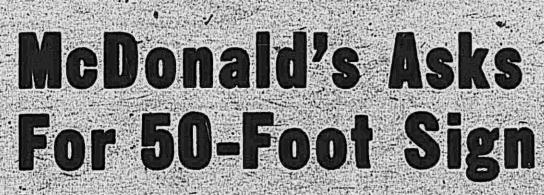

He is a lifelong resident of Antioch.

Candidates for village offices can run independently or on party tickets, which must include a candidate for mayor, three candidates for trustee and a candidate for village clerk.

Walsh said Monday that he doesn't have a ticket prepared yet.

"I may have something lined up by Jan. 15. By then I should know exactly what my slate will be."

Candidates can begin filing on Jan. 10 and the deadline is Feb. 14.

The Antioch zoning board of appeals says "yes and no" to McDonald's restaurant representatives' request for variance to the sign ordinance.

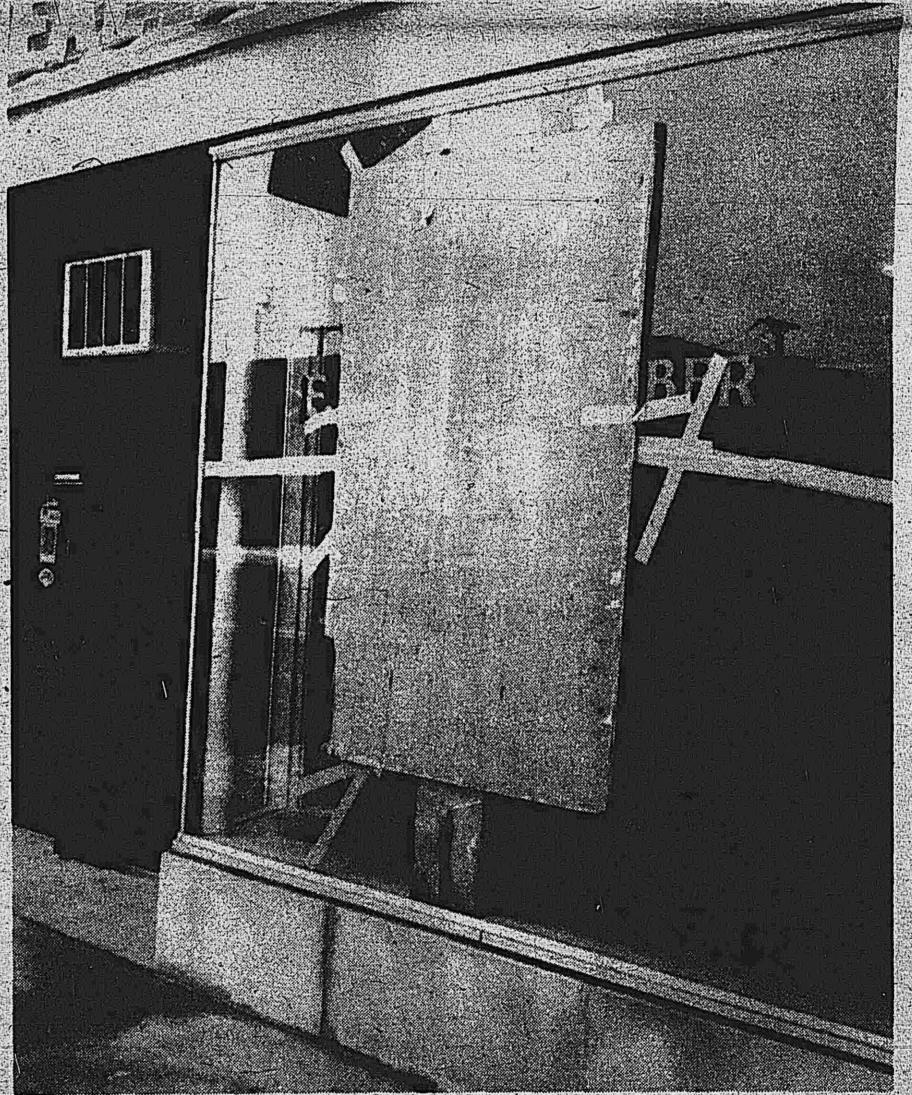

"Yes" to a 24-ft. free-standing sign on Orchard St. and "no" to one 50 ft. tall on the southwest corner of the property, facing the Antioch Shopping Plaza.

LAST WEEK the board held a public hearing on the request.

Presenting the restaurant's views were Bruce Albinak, real estate agent, sign company representative Victor Laska, and restaurant co-owners Alex Karis and his daughter Chris Schenk.

They maintain that the signs are vital for normal operating procedures and identity, as well as increasing the flow of traffic off Rt. 83, two blocks to the east. Their reason for the 50-foot sign was to

An early morning fire Tuesday caused excessive damage to the contents of Antioch's Mental Health Association Thrift Shop on the corner of Lake and Main streets.

Local fire fighters answered the call at 2:30 a.m. and were still on the scene at 4:30.

The damage was confined mostly to the building's contents and, of course, its windows were broken.

attract traffic off Rt. 173.

Realizing that the majority of local residents know where Mc-Donald's will be, Albinak explained that the signs are for non-resident shoppers and the transient (including summer) trade.

AT THE SUGGESTION of zoning board members including Frank Kuchenmeister, the petition was split: thus the request for the pair of signs was denied in part and approved in part.

The vote was 4-0 for the partial approval; two board members were absent due to illness.

The request now goes to the village board. A two-thirds vote is required to override the zoning board's decision.

AMONG THE OBJECTIONS raised was the issue of future requests for variance. The sign ordinance, passed in August, states that within five years all business signs must be placed flat against a building or designed in a building's architecture.

A little-discussed point of the ordinance was discussed at last week's hearing: if a business has at least 300 ft. of frontage it may have a free-standing sign.

The McDonald's property on Orchard St. has 189 ft. of frontage.

MIKE TEELEY, plan commission member, asked Albinak, "Are you blackmailing Antioch? Will approval of your request affect your coming here?"

The real estate representative answered, "I hate to admit it, but we'll be here regardless."

What's the Remedy for The GOP?

By RONALD REAGAN

The patient was gasping for breath, but still alive. Completely exhausted by his early November mishap, the Grand Old Party lay there looking a lot less grand and a lot older than ever before.

Last week a dozen members of the immediate family - Republican governors, their own ranks reduced by the mishap - gathered around the sickbed, along with some other relatives (a fewformer governors and some specialists called in for consultation).

Some seemed to be rehearsing funeral speeches. Others offered home remedies. Several had difficulty diagnosing the illness.

ONE THING WAS CERTAIN. The current Republican National Chairman, Mary Louise Smith, was stepping down and in January a replacement will have to be found - a new resident physician to help nurse the battered patient back to health.

Was it too late? Tom McCall of Oregon said the Party "has made so many fatal mistakes it finds itself an endangered species at its own > graveside."

Perhaps the patient could be talked back to good health. John Connally said the new chairman should do just that: be a spokesman first and foremost. Some thought he had himself in mind for the job, but the fact that he will probably be a contender for the 1980 Presidential nomination and also has a busy law practice seemed to rule that out, for the chairman-physician must be a full-time one.

Others weren't so sure that talk alone would help that much. Governor-elect James Thompson of Illinois said, "We need a technician."

MEANWHILE, OVER AT the White House. there was talk that what was needed was a sort of "coordinating committee" to discuss the patient's illness at great length. A Royal Academy of sorts, made up of senior experts.

What purpose it would serve was not clear, though one thing was: the patient might very well expire while the committee was inching toward a diagnosis or arguing over such things as the number of angels capable of dancing on the head of a pin.

Nevertheless, Mrs. Smith said she was looking into the idea. Senator Bob Dole seemed to think it should be explored, too.

THE PATIENT, WHO HAD still been on his feet last August in Kansas City, began to show sings of recovering after a large group of friends and supporters gathered there to write out a prescription.

They thrashed over a lot of ideas, but finally agreed unanimously on one called the Republican Platform, 1976.

It included such ingredients as a reduction in government's octopus-like involvement in the people's lives; containment of costs and budgets; maintenance of strong national defense; reversal of the flow of power from communities and states to Washington; and putting unworkable social programs to rest or subjecting them to overhaul.

THE PRESCRIPTION SEEMED like one which could work. A study of fever charts of the U.S. body politic put out periodically by Gallup, Harris and the rest, showed that large numbers of Independents and even a good number of Democrates (mostly blue collar and conservative) agreed with the prescription. Unfortunately, it was only partly filled by the pharmacy before the patient's next crisis came in early November. His resistance to illnes had been built up, but not quite enough to weather it.

At the family gathering of Republican governors, Mel Thomson of New Hampshire came up with an idea.

"Let's go back to that Kansas City prescription," he said. "Let's fill it and give it to the patient. That should start him on the road to recovery."

The relatives argued amongst themselves, as families will. One said the patient should concern himself not with ideology and issues, but with "winning elections." He was supported by a small but vocal group who had been assuring the patient for some time - as he got weaker and weaker - that he could, indeed, beat Something with Nothing.

IN THE END THOUGH, the family agreed. They passed a resolution announcing to the world that the principles of the Republican Party "are those enunciated in the Republican platform" drafted at the 1976 convention.

Some say the patient managed to sit up and even smile on hearing the news.

When one of these vandals is finally caught, we only hope that the punishment fits the crime.

We had a window broken in our building a while back. The young man was caught by police and taken to court. Yet, neither he nor his parents were required to pay for the window. The money came out of our pocket. It should have come out of the young man's hide.

(We use the word "hide" because it is appropriate when you are talking about animals.)

A CHICAGO NEWSCASTER predicted last week that, at the rate vandalism and crime is growing, it won't be as safe in 1980 to live in the Chicago suburbs as it used to be to live in the heart of Chicago.

I hope you didn't see the front page of Monday's Waukegan News-Sun.

It showed a picture of Senator H. Humphrey, returning to his home state of Minnesota, and kissing a well-wisher at a fund-raising party.

Oh, no! Can you imagine being the recipient of a kiss from Hubert Humphrey? Mr. Potato-Head with the eyes in the wrong place.

DID YOU SEE what Barry Goldwater had to say about President-Elect Jimmy Carter?

Goldwater was upset with a comment made by Carter in which he accused President Gerald Ford with "neglect of leadership."

Responded Goldwater:

"Carter botched up the job of governor of Georgia ... Reagan cleaned up the welfare mess in California and left the state in the black ... in contrast to Carter who left his state in debt ... I wonder what he knows about government."

A FAMOUS SPECTATOR dropped in at last Friday's basketball game at the Antioch High School gymnasium.

He was Wally Chambers, defensive lineman for the Chicago Bears.

The 260-pound, all-pro football player was recognized by some of the fans sitting around him. Several youngsters flocked behind him in the bleachers, more interested in seeing the 6-foot-6 Chambers than the basketball game.

Chambers was in Antioch to watch Lee Neer,

It suggests, of course, that you must be a "hardnose" to win, or to get anywhere. Nice guys get trampled on, the "hardnoses" keep insisting.

I PREFERRED SOME of the things newscaster Paul Harvey said recently to 6,000 people who attended annual Thanksgiving services at the Arena in Green Bay, Wis.

"Along came Perry Como," said Harvey. "I don't know if he triggered it, but all of a sudden I saw newspapers and other media recognizing that some nice guys do finish first."

"The ranks of professional golfers are dominated by men of prayer and religious conviction," he added. "Billy Casper and Gary Player, to name two."

"While professional football was being sullied by second-raters who were writing books," Harvey said, "First rater Bart Starr goes on and on, and higher and higher."

That naturally filled the Green Bay Arena with applause.

HARVEY ALSO REFERRED to former Packer football great Carroll Dale, who told hundreds of young men at a banquet of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes:

2 Badly Hurt In Crash

. Two young men are in the intensive care ward at St. Therese Hospital, recovering from injuries suffered when their car slammed into a tree on Antioch's Main St.

The accident happened at 10 p.m. Sunday at 1055 Main St., in front of Strang's Funeral Home.

Injured were the driver, David Powell, 19, of Libertyville, and his passenger, Richard Holub, - 18, of Mundelein.

The nursing supervisor at the Waukeganhospital said "their condition is stable, so at this point it looks like they'll be okay."

Their car, a 1967 coupe, was a total loss. Witnesses at the scene said they couldn't imagine how the young men could survive in the collapsed car unless they were thrown free.

POWELL WAS CITED by police for reckless driving and improper passing. Before losing control and hitting the tree, he sideswiped another car that was making a left turn off Main St. onto Harden St.-

That car was driven by Doreen Worster, 16, of Antioch. Neither she nor her passengers, Beth McLellan, 17; Scott Smith, 16, or Richard Allen Brown, 18, was injured.

Powell apparently attempted to pass Miss Worster while she was starting to turn onto Harden.

In every group of presents, there's always at least one item of such an irregular shape that it's impossible to wrap it neatly. For these problem gifts, try making a paper sack from bright red paper, using a plain grocery bag as your pattern. Apply a design cut out from left-over gift wrapping paper for colorful decoration.

Here's another tip for yet another holiday headache: trying to wrap that gift bottle.

A clever way to handle this problem is by turning your gift into a clown with bright, gummed-back paper. Draw the clown's face on the neck of the bottle and tie it with a big bow. Make paper into a cone shape for the clown's hat, finishing it off with ball fringe. The fringe can also serve as his nose and for the buttons on his "suit".

Pausing... What Will Santa Bring This Year?

By BETSY ROSSEN

Ah, to be a child.

Especially during the enchanting time of year called Christmas. At least I used to think so; however, I've been watching this season's toy commercials.

MY FIRST CLOSE LOOK at contemporary toys began when I heard about the bionic dolls.

Yes, children, you too can have high-powered vision like Steve Austin or Jamie Summers. I've been trying to imagine the intense thrill one would get in looking through a doll's bionic head to view the world through a cyclopean bionic eye.

SPEAKING OF DOLLS, have you seen the Hub-Bubs?

They are advertised as a charming storybook land where make-believe is an endless source of creativity. Sounded terrific to me, because imagination-building seems rare in toytown these Look a little closer, though. Each Hub-Bub animal has a specific role and position (sweeping, carpentry, cooking). The child learns to put the animals in place in their own building, turn a handle and each animal moves busily at its task.

I wonder if it's permissible to make up Hub-Bub adventures without turning the crank...

BABY HUSHABYE IS ONE of the latest in the series of mechanical dolls. It will cry and complain unless the young mother quiets it with the proper accessories.

As one four-year-old asked, "Mom, I want Baby Hushabye with her hushpacifier and Hushbottle."

SOME SWELL GAMES are out this Christmas. too.

Solotaire allows players to pay $5.95 for a plastic card rack with which to play the old favorite, solitaire.

Bermuda Triangle game transforms participants to the wonderful world of ship disasters, reported ghosts and mental anguish.

Fun with Jaws gives your child the opportunity to take garbage out of the plastic shark before he can shut his chompers.

MY ALL-TIME FAVORITE has to be "new" Baby Alive.

She drinks and eats and chews and then lovingly disposes of her meal in diapers. Neato.

What's new about "new" Baby Alive? She's billed as "even more beautiful." It's a good thing, considering "old" Baby Alive.

I hope they've improved her digestive system, too. Last year's model was rumored to have some definite weaknesses.

Okay Rezoning Near the Knolls

Following a public hearing last week, the Antioch zoning board of appeals approved by a vote of 4-0 (two absent) Pickard China's request for rezoning from agricultural to light industrial use.

Plant manager Eben Morgan and co-petitioner Mike Warren presented the company's case concerning 25 acres bordered by Rt. 83 on the west, the state line on the north and Oakwood Knolls subdivision on the east.

MANY OAKWOOD KNOLLS residents voiced their objections to the rezoning.

One resident asked Morgan, "Would you like a factory in your backyard?"

Warren replied, "All along we have tried to keep your interests at heart."-

"Light industrial zoning has the least intensive use," he continued. "Under today's zoning, a pig farm could be built there. But we want to be in line with the village's master plan."

THE PETITIONERS ALSO HOPE to annex to the village, and a pre-annexation agreement requires a divider between the property and residential areas. The company plans a screen of berm, trees and fencing. In addition, 50 ft. must separate the two areas, only 30 of

Decoration Judging Next Tuesday

By JENNIE LIPMAN

Let's hope that there are not any reports of vandalism this year at the homes that are decorated for Chirstmas. We ask your participation in the outdoor decorating contest which will be judged Tuesday, Dec. 21.

ONE HOMEOWNER CALLED to say that she and her husband will not be decorating their home this year as they have done in the past years.

Last year they strung Christmas bulbs on their evergreens and every string of lights was stolen. Worse yet, the lights were not taken for any reason except vandalism as they were found broken and scattered on the streets.

By warning you of the possibility of vandalism I hope that no one has been discouraged from entering our outdoor home decorating contest open to all association members. Judges will be strolling the streets of the neighborhood Dec. 12 through, 18. Three homes displaying the most Christmas spirit will be awarded cash prizes. Good luck!

CONGRATULATIONS TO second vice-president Glenn Hendrickson and secretary-treasurer Brad Ipsen, who were elected officers of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry at the November meeting.

THERE'S ANOTHER LITTLE GIRL on Santa's list this year. Just in time for Christmas, Jacqueline Helen Frank made her debut at Highland Park Hospital. The little angel, weighing 7 lb. 3 oz. was born Dec. 1 to Skip and Margo Frank.

Dad, who is very proud of his family, commented that mom is home and doing fine and that Jacqueline looks a great deal like her big sister, Jessica, 22 months old.

Also sharing the joy of Jacqueline's birth are grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Ralph DiLorenzo of Rolling Meadows and Grandpa Mark Stone of Highland Park.

Welcome, little Jacqueline! Our congratulations and best wishes to all of you!.

KITTY PURFEERST CELEBRATED her Dec. 3 birthday with pizza, cake and her fifth grade class from St. Peter's School.

When Kitty was asked what she wanted for her birthday, she reported records, a popular gift for a pre-teen. She received 6 records - 3 duplicates!

Making the party last till the wee hours of the morning, the girls enjoyed a slumber party.

Among party-goers were Oakwood Knolls friends

Sherry Scharlau and Debbie Jones.

Before Mom had a chance to recover from Kitty's party little Margaret informed her that she'd like the same kind of party for her Dec. 28 birthday.

for a game plan in life. That plan is simple - it's commitment. If we say we want to follow Jesus Christ, we need to carry out the spiritual exercises, such as reading the Bible and praying, so we can be strong enough to stand up in the battle."

PAUL HARVEY RATTLED OFF a list of other famous athletes and celebrities who, he said, have made the commitment Carroll Dale was talking about. He mentioned them faster than I could write them down, but they included Tom Landry and Archie Manning in football, Brooks Robinson and Harmon Killewbrew in baseball and, in the entertainment world, Robert Young, James Stewart and Fess Parker.

"Fess Parker refused to work in any dirty pictures," said Harvey, "so he worked mostly in Disney films. But don't feel sorry for him. Along the way he became president of a real estate firm, and then a bank and then an airlines." "THE WORLD is changing for the better, because people - individually - are changing," Harvey said.

"Angel (his nickname for his wife) and I have developed a tremendous respect for the younger generation they are not only the handsomest, and healthiest generation in history, but also the most capable of taking over the world."

He also observed how the mood of youth has changed since 1966, when the smash-hit song was "I'll Do It My Way." Now, he said, young people are saying to God:

"I'll do it Thy Way."

"I tell you," Harvey said. "Total commitment. That's where the action is. It's also the only cure there is today for addiction to alcohol and drugs.

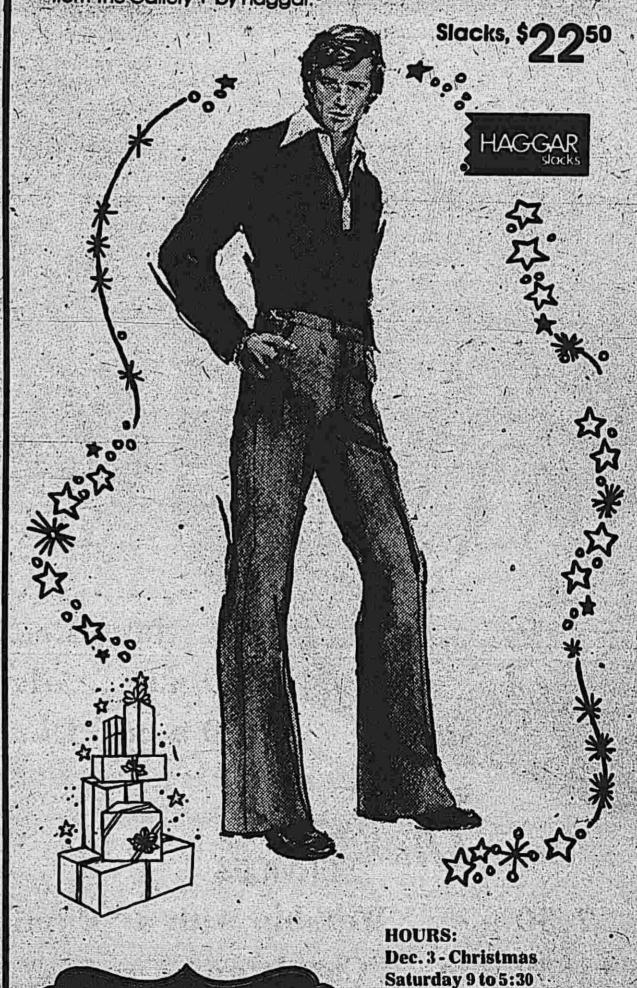

"Look into the beautiful face of anyone who has committed himself to Christianity, and you'll see reflected, 'all this and heaven, too.'"

It was the second fire here in 12 hours. At 2:30 Monday afternoon the Antioch'volunteers put out a house fire in the California subdivision, at 217.7th Ave.

The home was purchased by new owners just a few days ago and Maplethorpe said he thought the fire was caused by a space heater malfunction.

Band Parents Express Thanks

By BONNIE BORLA

The Antioch Grade School Band Parents Association would like to express its sincere thanks to all the kind people who bought candy during our candy drive. Without your generosity, our sale would not have been the success it was. We would also like to thank the band students and parents that gave their time and effort that was also needed in making this candy drive a successful one.

The following band students, recipients of cash prizes, are the top candy sellers in this year's drive: Terry and Kim Schintgen, Robert Robinson, Cathy Bernard and Robin Wertz.

The following band students will be invited to a pizza party after the holidays: Sherry and Barbie Olander, Chris Mazzuca, Joel Fries, Steven Redman, Richard Battaglia, Tracy Borla, Dennis Thompson, Stacy Hove, Mike Fallon, Dean Frasch, Ericha and Tina Olson, Terry Blecke, Chris and Vickie DeWitt, Chuck and Jennie Mills, Ellen and Matt Stevens, Joseph Bablo, Dennis Mitchel, Lara Drubtanis, Gary Quedenfeld, Gayle and Jim Little, Sarah and Frank Heiselmann, Kathy and Jim Verhagen, Mike Peterson, Suzy and Mike Kotlinski and Denise Parsons.

THE SCHOOL has limited funds with which to run the band program. The money raised by the band parents helps the program, paying for items such as uniforms, uniform hangers, instruments, recording systems and travel expenses.

The association keeps costs to the band students to a minimum, also giving them a well-rounded program to remember many years from now as one of the most enjoyable of his life.

WE HOPE MANY of our band boosters made it to the free Christmas concerts that the grade schools offered this past week.

The lower grade school performed Dec. 9; the Upper Grade School, Dec. 12.

I WOULD ALSO LIKE to announce that the Antioch Grade School Band Booster jackets are in at Barnstables Department Store in Antioch.

There is still plenty of time to get one for a Christmas present for any band student or booster you know. Jackets are going to be on sale all year at Barnstables.

The jackets are not required for, the band program, but we know the band students, parents and boosters will be proud to wear them in support of your band. This is not a fund-raiser, but a booster-raiser.

ON BEHALF OF the Antioch Grade School Band Parents Association, I would like to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

Wrap Up the Prettiest Presents of the Season

Nothing says "Merry Christmas" as gayly as brightly wrapped gifts. And nothing makes presents look so special as festive, fluffy "Magic Bows".

One of the nicest things about these lovely ribbon creations is that although they look difficult to make, they are really quite easy to do, especially with shiny, reversible 3M "Sasheen" ribbon. This colorful ribbon now comes in a clever new keeper pack that takes the hassle out of Christmasribbon dispensing by offering a selection of several colors and a unique side "lock" that keeps individual rolls in place when not in use. It couldn't be neater, easier or more economical!

To make holiday-package wrapping as simple as possible, it's a good idea to organize all your supplies in advance, such as ribbons, wrapping paper, tape and scissors. Gather them together in a convenient box so that everything will be handy when you're ready. "Scotch" Magic Transparent tape does a wonderful, the results!

job on packages because it is virtually invisible and non-yellowing. You can even write on it, which makes for easy coding and keeping track of all the gifts you've so painstakingly wrapped.

Practice making a couple of "Magic Bows" before you start the bulk of your wraping. Easy-to-follow, illustrated instructions are included in every keeper pack. To get you started, here are the basics:

Take two or three yards of the color you want, form a circle, tape it inside and roll the ribbon up. Then fold the roll in half and cut off the corners, leaving %" center. Tie the center of the notch with a narrow strip, cut from an 8-inch length of ribbon. Then bring the loop down across the center with a quick twist, and repeat, pulling the next loop from the same end with your left index finger.

Follow these steps until all the loops on both sides are fluffed out. You'll love bottom edge of the flap.

2. Cut hat shape out of red paper the width of the bag, and glue to top edge of the flap. Add cotton ball to top of hat.

Glue a fat, white cotton beard onto the red paper just under the flap, and down the front of the bag. With red crayon lightly circle on two rosy cheeks. To use, nut hand inside bag grasping the flap.

Some folks think life in a small town isn't exciting. Evidently they haven't been to Antioch recently.

Where else can you discuss vandalism, a new china factory, McDonald's signs, fires ... and not even leave Main St.!

ANTIOCH TOWNSHIP CLERK Marilyn Slater tells us that several folks have stopped by the office at 880½ Main St. to pick up names of needy families.

Why not drop by or call: you can share Christmas by giving a holiday basket to those less fortunate than you.

IF YOU'RE WONDERING if you really saw people crawling up the walls at Mike Warren's office a week ago Sunday — you did.

Mary Matteoni tells us the gang had a great time at their annual Christmas Decorating Potluck. About 20 people helped get 392 Lake St. in shape for the holidays.

HEAR TELL our good friend Gerri Amundsen had quite a surprise last Friday.

About 50 of her friends (with the help of hubby Don) joined her birthday celebration. She's somewhere over 30 now, but we'll never tell!

Speaking of birthday wishes, we send ours to Jerry Vander Meer and Jim Fields on the 19th and Karen White on the 21st.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Jenny Beese, Antioch High School sophomore, who has been selected to represent ACHS in state competition for the annual Hugh O'Brian Foundation award.

Jenny was selected from a group of outstanding sophomores. Runnersup were Tony Frook, Ingrid Lindberg, Jeanne Venn, Gloria Wells and Darren Houghton.

Last year the Jaycees selected Margaret Bessette for the state convention and she was first runnerup.

DOUBLE GOOD NEWS from California reached our office this week.

Former Antioch resident Jacquelyne Kennedy Cacerano is the proud mother of twin girls, Gulia and Francesca. Also sharing in the happiness is grandmother Dorothy Kennedy of San Diego and great-grandmother Rose Kennedy of Antioch.

SUNNY WEATHER REPORTS include this item: Mary and Bill Barr are back from vacationing in Fort Myers, Fla.

They tell us the weather temperature reached 85 degrees — maybe their return brought this week's "heat wave." Hope they enjoyed the trip.

WERE YOU WATCHING the Phil Donahue Show last Wednesday, Dec. 8?

Nancy Kolb of Antioch and Sue Taylor of Lake Villa became television personalities! Also in the audience were Pat and Donna Nielsen.

OUR COMPLIMENTS AND SINCERE
THANKS go to the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry for improving the holiday sound system. To some folks, the best times last Christmas were the silent nights.

DELECTABLE HOME MADE COOKIES make original tree trimmings as well as happy holiday eating.

Little folks bake cookies for fun and happy hours

Youngsters can spend many creative hours in the kitchen, baking and putting together their very own cookies and Christmas treats.

The recipes below are easy for little folk and will provide some toothsome goodles to add excitement to your table, hang on your tree or wrap as gifts.

Basic Cookies (from a mix). Decide which cookie to make and make up basic dough from package directions. Use ginger-cookie mix if preferred. Roll dough out about 1/4" thick. Cut in desired shapes. Bake as package directs, then decorate with prepared frosting.

Santa Cookie: From cookie dough mix, cut out tear drop shape about 3" tall. Sprinkle with red sugar. Bake, cool, then decorate. Pointed top of tear drop is Santa's peaked hat. The wide bottom, his body.

Gumdrop Christmas Tree: Cut out triangle for tree, and small rectangle for tree base, from basic cookie dough.

Press parts into place on cookie sheet and bake. When cool, add gum drops for ornaments.

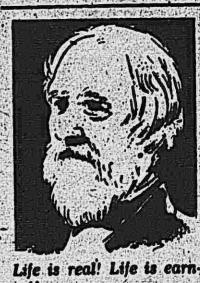

Singing Angel: From cookie dough mix, cut out circle for head and larger triangle for body. From contrasting dough cut wings in tear-drop shape. On cookie sheet, press all parts into place and bake, Cool and decorate with frosting or egg paint (recipe below).

Egg Paint: It is easier for young people to decorate baked cookies, but egg paint can be applied before baking too. To make this medium, mix an egg yoke with a few drops of water. Put small amounts in tiny dishes and add vege-table coloring as desired. Use a soft brush for each color, and let your imagination go! If you are using the cookies for Christmas tree trimming, remember to leave a small hole about ½ inch from top of the cookie, for a bit of colored yarn or ribbon as the hanger.

IF HAPPINESS COULD BE BOUGHT, SOME WOULD COMPLAIN ABOUT THE PRICE.

A 1776 Emismas

The colonists served Christmas dinner in midafternoon, and they went to great lengths in preparation for the feast. For example, the Washingtons' Christmas dinner one year included roast beef and Yorkshire pudding, mutton chops, roast suckling pig, roast turkey with chestnut stuffing, cold boiled beef with horseradish sauce and cold baked Virginia ham.

In the South, gentlemen drank hot toddies, brandishing toasts to the coming year. In the rest of the colonies, wine, punch and brandy were served with Christmas meals. Two drinks were particularly in favor at the time: syllabub (available in many flavors and served with lemon juice and a bit of rind) and flip (a mixture of beer, sugar and Jamaica rum, warmed by a loggerhead that had been heated in the fire until red hot).

Greeting cards have colorful, historic sources

Each year researchers come up with more and more fascinating information about the origins of Christmas and New Year greetings.

Greeting cards are usually made of stiff paper or card-board, but cloth, vellum, leather, celluloid, metal, wood, clay, cork, and new materials have been added to their designs. Cards and their messages vary in size. In 1929 an inscribed grain of rice was presented as a Christmas greeting to the Prince of Wales, and in 1924, President Calvin Coolidge received a Christmas card that measured

In ancient Egypt the New Year was celebrated by the In ancient Egypt the New Year was celebrated by the exchange of symbolic presents such as scent bottles and scarabs inscribed "an ab nab" ("all good luck"). The Romans exchanged strenge; originally branches of laurel or olive, often coated with gold leaf. Symbols of seasonal good will, such as a Roman lamp and the figure of Victory surrounded by strenge, were combined on objects of baked clay, with the inscription "Anno Novo faustum felix tibi sit" ("May the New Year be happy and lucky for you"). The acknowledgment of the New Year with the exchanges of good will continued in Europe through the early days of Christianity.

In the 15th century, master wood engravers produced inscribed prints which had the same intent as the modern Christmas and New Year cards. One of these shows the Christ Child with halo, before a cross holding a scroll on which appears "Ein gust selig ior" ("A good and happy year"). During the 18th and early 19th centuries, copper plate engravers were producing prints and calendars for Christianity. plate engravers were producing prints and calendars for the New Year and greetings by merchants and tradesmen Recognized as the first Christmas card is one designed in England by J. C. Horsley, in 1843 for his friend Sir Henry Cole. An edition of 1,000 copies was placed on sale at Felix Summerly's Treasure House in London in 1846. They were printed by lithography on stiff cardboard, in dark sepia and hand colored. The design shows a family party in progress, beneath which is the greeting, "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You."

A similar card was designed by W. M. Egley of London and produced as an etching in 1848. While this card is more elaborate, its design suggests a relationship to the Cole-Horsley card. The same may be said of an American Cole-Horsley card. The same may be said of an American Christmas card of the same period, designed by R. H. Pease of Albany, N.Y., which bore the inscription, "Pease's Great Variety Store in The Temple of Fancy." Sentiment cards were exchanged and collected in the United States from 1830 to the Civil War and many have survived . . . among them an "expanding heart" Christmas present or greating card in purse form dating from about 1859 greeting card in purse form, dating from about 1859.

Today you can say Merry Christmas in Macedonian, Greek, Hungarian, any one of 32 languages plus Braille. There are greeting cards available in our polygiot nation in Polish, Spanish, Japanese, Armenian, Croatian, Chinese, Macedonian, Portuguese, Greek, Swedish, Norwegian, Hungarian, Lithuanian, to name just a few. Distributed throughout the United States, many are produced in this country, others come from abroad.

New Massey Snowmobiles: Excitement engineering by the sled full.

Come in and take a look at three great new Massey snowmobiles for 1976, and you'll know what we mean by excitement engineering.

These Masseys are loaded with innovative new ideas that will add to your snowmobiling excitement this year - in terms of performance, handling, dependability and comfort.

There's CYCLONE, the big performance cross-country competitor...CHINOOK, the economical compact...and WHIRLWIND, the exciting all-around sports machine with an unbelievable ride.

Each -Massey snowmobile has an aluminum alloy tunnel. It eliminates rust and corrosion problems while contributing to the superior power-to; weight ratio offered by all.

the new Masseys. Then there's the patented Para-Rail' suspension on the Whirlwind. Para-Rail settles the argument between bogie and slide by providing the best of both. You get the ride and performance of a slide and the marginal snow versatility of a bogie.

Rail-mounted wheels act as a single unit, working with a double-acting rear shock to give you a ride that's comfortable as well as extremely stable. And a unique "torque transfer system" puts sled weight to the rear for extra track contact during acceleration, then moves the weight forward for better handling and a smooth ride at higher speeds.

Another significant innovation is the Brooten liquidcooled engine in Massey Cyclone models. This proven engine is a performance power plant, with both twocylinder and three-cylinder models offering a Mikuni slide carburetor for each cylinder. Engine coolant is cooled by snow in a tunnel-mounted heat exchanger.

All new Massey snowmobiles offer a great new torque and speed sensing clutch system that delivers an outstanding percentage of horsepower to the track, without the banging associated with snowmobile clutches.

A tuned exhaust system on all three machines helps you get the most from every drop of fuel, thanks to a scavenging effect that creates extra torque and higher rpm's. Quiet, too!

There's more to the Massey anowmobile story, as you'll discover when you come in. We've got service know-how, we have parts in stock, and we offer MF financing if you desire.

When you look at excitement engineering, and what we offer to back it up, you'll go Massey this year.

The colonists served Christmas dinner in midafternoon, and they went to great lengths in preparation for the feast. For example, the Washingtons' Christmas dinner one year included roast beef and Yorkshire pudding, mutton chops, roast suckling pig, roast turkey with chestnut stuffing, cold boiled beef with horseradish sauce and cold baked Virginia ham.

In the South, gentlemen drank hot toddies, brandishing toasts to the coming year. In the rest of the colonies, wine, punch and brandy were served with Christmas meals. Two drinks were particularly in favor at the time: syllabub (available in many flavors and served with lemon juice and a bit of rind) and flip (a mixture of beer, sugar and Jamaica rum, warmed by a loggerhead that had been heated in the fire until red hot).

Greeting cards have colorful, historic sources

Each year researchers come up with more and more fascinating information about the origins of Christmas and New Year greetings.

Greeting cards are usually made of stiff paper or cardboard, but cloth, vellum, leather, celluloid, metal, wood, clay, cork, and new materials have been added to their designs. Cards and their messages vary in size. In 1929 an inscribed grain of rice was presented as a Christmas greeting to the Prince of Wales, and in 1924, President Calvin Coolidge received a Christmas card that measured

In ancient Egypt the New Year was celebrated by the exchange of symbolic presents such as scent bottles and scarabs inscribed "an ab nab" ("all good luck"). The Romans exchanged strenae, originally branches of laurel or olive, often coated with gold leaf. Symbols of seasonal good will, such as a Roman lamp and the figure of Victory surrounded by strenae, were combined on objects of baked clay, with the inscription "Anno Novo faustum felix tibi sit" ("May the New Year be happy and lucky for you"). The acknowledgment of the New Year with the exchanges of good will continued in Europe through the early days of Christianity.

In the 15th century, master wood engravers produced inscribed prints which had the same intent as the modern Christmas and New Year cards. One of these shows the Christ Child with halo, before a cross holding a scroll on which appears "Ein gust selig ior" ("A good and happy year"). During the 18th and early 19th centuries, copper plate engravers were producing prints and calendars for the New Year and greetings by merchants and tradesmen were common.

Recognized as the first Christmas card is one designed in England by J. C. Horsley, in 1843 for his friend Sir Henry Cole. An edition of 1,000 copies was placed on sale at Felix Summerly's Treasure House in London in 1846. They were printed by lithography on stiff cardboard, in dark sepia and hand colored. The design shows a family party in progress, beneath which is the greeting, "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You."

A similar card was designed by W. M. Egley of London and produced as an etching in 1848. While this card is more elaborate, its design suggests a relationship to the Cole-Horsley card. The same may be said of an American Christmas card of the same period, designed by R. H. Pease of Albany, N.Y., which bore the inscription, "Pease's Great Variety Store in The Temple of Fancy." Sentiment cards were exchanged and collected in the United States from 1830 to the Civil War and many have survived . . . among them an "expanding heart" Christmas present or greeting card in purse form, dating from about 1859.

Today you can say Merry Christmas in Macedonian, Greek, Hungarian, any one of 32 languages plus Braille. There are greeting cards available in our polyglot nation in Polish, Spanish, Japanese, Armenian, Croatian, Chinese, Macedonian, Portuguese, Greek, Swedish, Norwegian, Hungarian, Lithuanian, to name just a few. Distributed throughout the United States, many are produced in this country, others come from abroad.

Christmas is here:
Winds whistle shrill,
Isy and chill.
Little care we;
Little we fear
Weather without,
Sheltered about
The Mahogany Tree.

New Massey Snowmobiles: Excitement engineering by the sled full.

Come in and take a look at three great new Massey snowmobiles for 1976, and you'll know what we mean by excitement engineering.

These Masseys are loaded with innovative new ideas that will add to your anowmobiling excitement this year—in terms of performance, handling, dependability and comfort.

There's CYCLONE, the big performance cross-country competitor...CHINOOK, the economical compact...and WHIRLWIND, the exciting all-around sports machine with an unbelievable ride.

Each new Massey snowmobile has an aluminum alloy tunnel. It eliminates rust and corrosion problems while contributing to the superior power-to-weight ratio offered by all

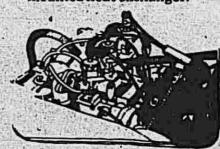

Then there's the patented Para-Rail' suspension on the Whirlwind. Para-Rail settles the argument between bogic and slide by providing the best of both. You get the ride and performance of a slide and the marginal snow versatility of a bogic.

the new Masseys.

as a single unit, working with a double acting rear shock to give you a ride that's comfortable as well as extremely stable. And a unique "torque transfer system" puts sled weight to the rear for extra track contact during acceleration, then moves the weight forward for better handling and a smooth ride at higher speeds.

Another significant innovation is the Brooten liquidcooled engine in Massey Cyclone models. This proven engine is a performance power plant, with both twocylinder and three-cylinder models offering a Mikuni slide carburetor for each cylinder. Engine coolant is cooled by snow in a tunnelmounted heat exchanger.

All new Massey snowmobiles offer a great new torque and speed sensing clutch system that delivers an outstanding percentage of horsepower to the track, without the banging noises often associated with snowmobile clutches.

A tuned exhaust system on all three machines helps you get the most from every drop of fuel, thanks to a scavenging effect that creates extra torque and higher rpm's.

Quiet, too!

There's more to the Massey snowmobile story, as you'll discover when you come in. We've got service know-how, we have parts in stock, and we offer MF financing if you desire.

When you look at excitement engineering, and what we offer to back it up, you'll go Massey this year.

Viking Football Players Honored

Energy savings, the experts at International Paper's energy-oriented Operation Badger (Better Actions Develop Greater Energy Reductions) program say, could be achieved through an active conservation program that could reduce energy demand by the equivalent of 86 million gallons of oil a day.

The energy saved by that would be enough to keep about a million American families warm through approximately 10 days of freezing weather.

By 1985, the Alaskan oilfields should provide the rest of the country with about 2.4 million barrels of oil a day:

DO BE CAREFUL when buying your tree: When purchasing your tree, buy a firm, fresh tree. Store it, in a cool place with the base in water until ready to be decorated.

DO MAKE A CHECK of the decorations you use: Remember to check the lighting strings for frayed wires, broken cords and loose sockets. Use only light strings that bear a UL Label.

When trimming the tree, avoid using candles or other decorations that may ignite easily. Keep the tree away from the fire-place, radiator and television set — any source of heat may cause the tree to become dry, thus creating a fire hazard.

DON'T OVERDO IT:
Be sure not to overload
the electrical circuits in your home. The wires that carry more current than they can handle may overheat and cause a fire. Read manufacturer's instructions on lighting strings carefully and do not use more than the recommended number of lights in one circuit.

When you leave your home or retire for the night, turn off the light sets, colored spot lights or other decorations.

Varsity Wrestlers Tough, As Usual

Antioch High's varsity wrestlers are proving tough to tangle with again this season.

Last Friday they defeated Round Lake 28-17.
Then, Saturday, in the Glenbrook North tournament, John Kakacek finished first in the 138-pound division and several other Sequoits placed high.

Against Round Lake, Jon Gibson scored a pin at 98 pounds, Bob Gossman won a decision at 105 and Jeff Gross outpointed his rival at 112.

MOVING INTO THE 119-pound class, Marvin Gibson enjoyed an easy 6-0 victory over his Round Lake foe and Randy Larsen had no trouble winning at 126 pounds.

Dan Otten then gained a tie in the 132-pound match, followed by Kakacek's 4-1 decision over his Round Lake opponent.

Antioch lost the next four weights, 145, 155, 167 and 185 pounds, but heavyweight Bob Ducato had no trouble with his Round Lake rival, winning 13-1.

AT GLENBROOK NORTH, three Sequoits placed high at 98 pounds. Jon Gibson was second, Tim Haviland third and Tony James fourth.

Antioch's 105-pounder, Gossman, placed second in his field while Ducato was second among the heavyweights.

Antioch had two standouts at 112 pounds, Jeff Gross placing third and Jim Fasnacht fourth.

Sequoits Face Friday, Saturday Foes

By MIKE WITT

The Sequoits from Antioch completely outclassed Round Lake Friday night as they rolled to a 74-50 victory.

This Friday night the Sequoits host the Rams from Grayslake. Grayslake is led by 6'9" Ed. Brady, and 6'5" Mark Francis. The Rams lost to Warren last week 62-48, and are winless in confernce play this year.

Saturday night the Sequoits travel to North Chicago to tangle with the always-tough Warhawks. This will be a big test for Antioch to see how far they have progressed this season.

The Sequoits started out strong last Friday as they exploded to a 14-2 advantage. This resulted in a 19-9 first quarter lead.

The second quarter was a different game. Round Lake's press forced Antioch into 10 turnovers, and whittled the lead to 25-24. But Antioch soon settled down and scored eight straight points to take a 33-24 halftime lead.

The second half was all Antioch. The junior-packed lineup moved the ball around and consistently got off good shots. Round Lake again tried to press, but this time the Sequoits ran right through it.

BILL DUBEK, WHO IS quickly becoming an accomplished scorer, led the team with 20 points. Tracy Sodman followed with 18 points and dominated the offensive boards.

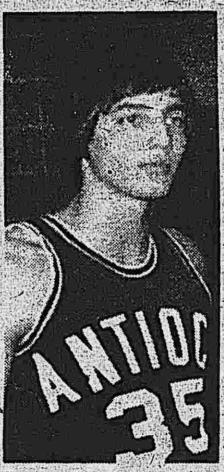

Brian Andrews and Dennis Korjenek again ran . the offense very well, directing the Sequoit attack.

"Greenies, skins and presses?"

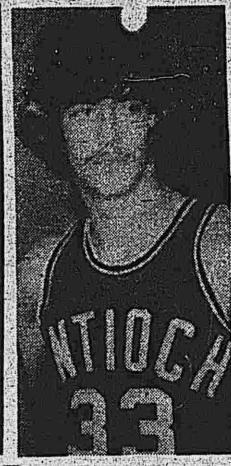

The game was also marked by fine performances from reserves Steve Pilcher, Drew Dietz, John Eder and Tom Huebner: Their play showed that Coach Roger Andrews has players capable of coming off the bench and contributing to the effort.

Andrews said:

"We played a good defense on the inside and dominated the boards. We had a better shot selection and hit a decent percentage (47) of our shots. The reserves also did quite well when they were in there."

Brian Andrews

Tracy Sodman

The performance of the Sequoits in their last two games has shown an obvious improvement from the start of the year. This weekend's doubleheader should prove to be a crucial warm-up for the upcoming Rockford tournament.

COACH ANDREWS SAID after the Round Lake

"Our team is thinking, concentrating and using its offense very well, keeping cool. They're also rebounding and shooting well, besides working hard on defense."

"We feel the team is starting to realize its potential and adjusting to varsity basketball," Andrews said.

Dubek got 20 points by swishing 10 of his 14 field goal attempts. Sodman hit on 9 of 16 shots from the field.

Andrews and Sodman led in rebounds with nine and eight respectively, plus Andrews had eight assists and Dubek six.

Of all the experts entering last week's Antioch News basketball contest, only a few predicted that the Sequoits would really sock it to Round Lake.

Most picked Antioch to win, of course, but few realized that Coach Roger Andrews' team would perform impressively enough to win by 24 points. 74 to 50.

Laura Stewart of Fillweber Ct. came closest. She predicted that Antioch would win by 23 points and therefore will receive the first prize, a $15 gift certificate from the Ben Franklin Family Center. We'll be mailing it to her this week.

ANOTHER LAURA came in second. Laura Dubek, of Rt. 2, Antioch, forecast a 22-point victory for Antioch. Her prize will be a $10 gift certificate from Stanley's Men's Fashions in Orchard Plaza.

Third prize, a $5 gift certificate at the Piggy? Bank Discount Store, will go to Bill Dubek, who said Antioch would win by 27 points.

THERE WERE OTHERS who had the right idea. Shirley Gutowksi picked Antioch over Round Lake by 20 points, Marilyn Sterbenz guessed Antioch would win by 30, and Tom Huebner picked the Sequoits by 16.

Another contest, with $30 worth of prizes, appears in today's Antioch News.

The challenge is to predict the outcome of the Sequoits' Friday night game here against Grayslake. The tie-breaker is Antioch's Saturday night game at North Chicago.
